

SCHOOL OF
MODERN LANGUAGES AND CULTURES
FACULTY OF ARTS, THE UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG

The Future of the French Language

A Prospective Analysis

by

Dominique Wolton

CNRS, Paris

Monday 27 September
10:00 – 11:30 am
Venue : TT Tsui Bldg, Rm 404

Dr Dominique Wolton is a Research Director at the Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique (CNRS) in Paris, and Head of the laboratory «Information, Communication and Scientific Issues» since 2000. He is the founder of the international journal Hermès and its Chief Editor since 1988 (CNRS Editions). He is also the Chief Editor of the collection Communication, which he founded in 1998 (CNRS Editions).

Dominique Wolton has published numerous works focusing on the relationship between culture, communication, society and politics. He is now researching the political and cultural impact of globalisation in the area of information and communication. His recent major publications include L'Autre Mondialisation (The Other Globalisation), Flammarion, 2003; Il faut sauver la communication (Saving Communication), Flammarion, 2005; and Demain la Francophonie (the Francophone World Tomorrow), Flammarion, 2006.

Please note that this talk will be delivered in French

This talk is organised jointly with the Consulate General of France in Hong Kong and Macau.

Information : Dr D.C. Meyer dcmeyer@hku.hk

All are welcome